

Scars and Injuries

Trauma sites, like scars from injuries and surgery (as well as vaccinations, whiplash, falls, burns and fractures, etc.) disrupt the nerves, circulation, lymph vessels and meridians that run through the injured area - often causing pain and other seemingly unrelated illness symptoms (Interference Fields).

These scars act like a “dam” in the connective tissues, attracting heavy metals and toxins to accumulate in the affected area and thus weakening the tissue. This can also lead to congestion or uncontrolled discharges at the site of the scar / interference field which in turn leads to more pain and energetic disorders.

Because all functional circuits and all organs are connected to each other, an “interference” in the energy flow of the body can spread throughout the whole body – for example in the form of rheumatism.

Therefore, all scars or trauma areas on the body need to be tested for their interference or blockage on the body.

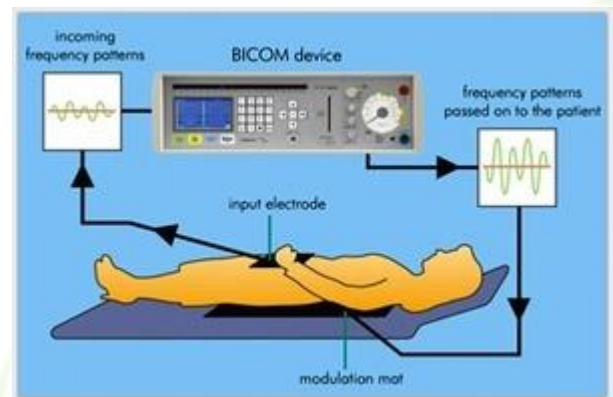

The treatment we offer at BioFlex Natural Therapies balances the body, restores flow, allows cell communication and triggers the release of stored toxins so that the body is stimulated to heal itself.
